

"There's no such thing as a frictionless bearing," Gus said. "Nobody ever made one and nobody ever will. A ball bearing comes close to it, but even a ball bearing has friction."

